Department of Mathematics, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Sonia Math Day for Girls: Knots and Braids

Saturday, April 4, 2015
245 Altgeld Hall
9 am – 3 pm

Free shirts and prizes!

There is no registration fee.
Students should register by March 13, 2015
at www.math.illinois.edu/soniamathday/.

The Sonia Math Day for Girls is an event comprised of fun hands-on workshops and talks accessible to students in 8th through 12th grade.
The purpose of the day is to encourage young women to pursue mathematics.

This event is sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the Department of Mathematics and the Illinois Geometry Lab at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and is organized by the Association for Women in Mathematics U of I Chapter.

For more information contact Michelle Delcourt at delcour2@illinois.edu or call Marci Blocher at (217) 333-5749.

www.math.illinois.edu/soniamathday